

Eryndor (Formerly Ravenhall)

We have since grown apart in our ultimate goals for Gallia. We will always, without fail, support and defend the free & innocent people of Gallia... Attached you will find the final letter that ultimately dissolved the First Alliance...

To: @thoryk @katnipt

The order of the BloodBrothers always has & always will stand with the free & innocent people of Gallia.

BloodHaven always has & always will be a Sanctuary for the lost and lonely.

In order to best align with the needs of the free & innocent peoples of Gallia, the Order of the BloodBrothers & our allies will from this day forward remain neutral from any and all kingdoms that may rise, regardless of their origins or intent.

Our mission is a simple one, to offer loyalty to every individual who offers it in return. To help and protect the free & innocent of Gallia, by any means necessary. To ensure that every person knows they are valued regardless of their ability & to maintain peace, even if that means marching to war in defense of those who cannot protect themselves.

Ever since the fall of the Lake Hermits, the First Alliance has been strained. Our goals and mission never fully aligning.

It is for this reason, to better focus on our core mission and dedication to the free & innocent of Gallia that I, Grand Marshal VoidLock GraveHeart, Leader of the Order of the BloodBrothers, from this day forward, hereby dissolve the First Alliance for irreconcilable differences.

This comes not from a place of hostility or spite, in fact it comes from a place of dedication to peace for all of Gallia. The Bastion Concord & all future alliances will not be handshake alliances, rather they will be formed based on actions and efforts in support of the free people.

((Eryndor's (Formerly Ravenhall) citizens are a great friend of the free people. Aligned with the common goal of keeping the people free, during King Elryck's crowning Grand Marshal VoidLock GraveHeart & King Elryck formed an official alliance. Marking a great day for all of Gallia, as our allies grow so does our ability to better help more and more denizens of the realm. With the growing threat of oppression and subjugation from bandits and hostile clans, it is more important than ever that the free people are protected wherever they may go. The fields of strife & war are more active than ever...))
