

Hollow Aegis

The Hollow Aegis was formed soon after the founding of The Order of the BloodBrothers.

The Hollow Aegis are a collective of supernaturally inclined individuals within The Order of the BloodBrothers, founded by VoidLock GraveHeart. Some of the brothers and sisters within The Order have joined because of their attunement with the supernatural. Finding a bond in the brotherhood, they freely decided to take The Blood Oath.

They seek out information about all things supernatural in hopes of being able to help keep peace and balance in the world. Some of the members of The Hollow Aegis have different attunements, some with nature, others with ghosts... Each of them bringing a special set of skills to the table, working together to overcome whatever challenges might come their way.

Each of the members of The Hollow Aegis has a sworn duty to protect others from the supernatural... and even at times protect individuals from themselves.
